INBRED CORN LINES RELEASED TO GROWERS

BLACKSBURG — Three new inbred lines of yellow corn, selected for their high combining ability in crosses along with other desirable traits, have been released by the Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station to seed producers.
The new inbred lines, Virginia 59, Virginia 60 and Virginia 61, were developed by Clarence F. Genter, professor of agronomy and C. W. Roane, professor of plant pathology and physiology, at Virginia Tech.
Seed is available now from the Virginia Crop Improvement Association , 420 Smyth Hall, Virginia Tech Tech, Blacksburg, Va. 24061.
Virginia 59 flowers slightly earlier than Virginia 55, one of its parents. Kernels tend to be slightly dented and have a slight bronze cast. Ears are medium length with usually 14 rows of kernels. Grain quality is good. The new line has good husk cover, generally good standability and good resistance to leaf and stalk disease typical in Virginia. It sheds pollen very well and is a productive seed producer.
Virginia 60 has a flat, medium wide kernel with a smooth dent. It is similar in plant and ear height to Virginia 35 and silks about four days later than Virginia 55. Husk cover is good and the line has good resistance to leaf diseases prevalent in Virginia. It is an excellent pollen shedder and has good stalk and root strength.
Virginia 61 is characterized by long ears and 12-14 rows of short, thick kernels. The plants are moderately tall with low ear placement. Husk cover is good, tassel branches are long and the plant is a good shedder.
All the new inbred lines combine well with several other liens, notably Virginia 26 and Pennsylvania 91, giving high yields per acre.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our Mother, Mrs. Fannie Hamilton, who departed from earth July 28th, 1971.
A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still.
A place is vacant in our hearts,
That never can be filled.
You bade no one your last farewell.
You said goodbye to none.
The Heavenly gates were open,
And a loving voice said come.
It hurt us so to lose you,
But you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.
Sadly missed by her children.
7-20-1t

"In Low Remberance"
of our father and grandfather, Vernard D. Thomas, who left us one year ago July 15, 1971.
The nights and days are silent
A vacant heart of kindness are gone.
The sweetest words he always said "be true, honest and we will travel along"
Dad we never forget,
The leadership and kindness he taught us for it is a token of love he had for us,
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren. 7-20-1p
